

March 2017

Did you know that suicide remains the second leading cause of death youth ages 10-24 in the United States? What most people are not aware of is that according to national surveys, one out of every seven high school students has thought about suicide in the last year, and nearly one in nine kids reported making a suicide plan. The end result is startling: over 5,900 US youth die by their own hands every year.

In order to continue our awareness efforts, the success of annual outing and auction is vital. Our 12th Annual Golf & Tennis Outing will take place at Eagle Oaks Golf & Country Club in Farmingdale, NJ on Monday, June 19, 2017. Over 400 men and women, most of who live in Central New Jersey will attend the dinner reception, including 220 golfers across our morning and afternoon shotgun and 48 tennis players. Our event concludes with a dinner reception and auction, in which 100% of the funds generated from the auction are donated directly to SPTS, as all items are donated.

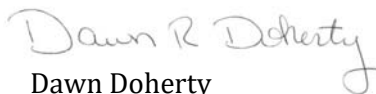

We would like to request your help by supporting SPTS with a sponsorship, advertisement in our ad journal or by donating to our auction. As a token of appreciation, all donations will receive a complimentary listing in our ad journal. Donations valued at $250 will receive a complimentary half page ad; whereas items valued at $500 or more will receive a complimentary full page ad. The ad journal will be printed and distributed to attendees, as well as available to view on our website following the event.

With your generosity, we will continue our mission in youth suicide prevention efforts that will ultimately save lives and keep families from having to grieve the death of their beloved children, grandchildren, brothers, and sisters. The funds raised from the auction are applied to the program efforts of the organization. The continued success of this event allows SPTS to offer our free online suicide prevention for educators. It also allows SPTS to distribute free copies of our DVD for parents, Not My Kid: What Every Parent Should Know to communities in need.

The Society for the Prevention of Teen Suicide, Inc (SPTS) is a 501(c)(3) founded in 2005 by two New Jersey dads who both lost teenage children to suicide. Our mission is to reduce the number of youth suicides and attempted suicides by encouraging overall public awareness through the development of educational training programs to develop competent communities. SPTS provides suicide prevention training and consultation across the United States, with over 100,000 teachers completing our educational resources nationwide. We also include a variety of resources for parents, educators, and teens on our website.

Please visit our website www.sptsusa.org to find useful information about suicide prevention and the endeavors we are making progress on. If you have any questions regarding our organization, mission or outing, please contact SPTS Executive Director, Dawn Doherty: dawn@sptsusa.org or (732) 410-7900.

Sincerely,

Dawn Doherty
Executive Director
